

REPSOL RESISTEX[®] 1820FG

The grade REPSOL RESISTEX[®]1820FG is a metallocene ethylene-hexene copolymer with easy processability during transformation, which is especially intended for films with low thickness. This material offers outstanding impact and puncture resistance, as well as excellent optical and seal properties, hence ideal for high-demand blown film applications. As additives it contains processing aid, thermal stabilizers, anti-block (2500 ppm) and slip agent (1000 ppm).

Applications

- Food packaging
- Seal layer in co-extrusions: low seal initiation temperature for FFS packaging
- Lamination
- Freezer films
- Agriculture applications: silage, mulching film and greenhouses

Recommended melt temperature range from 180 to 230°C. Processing conditions should be optimized for each production line.

PROPERTIES	VALUE	UNIT	TEST METHOD

Storage

The grade REPSOL RESISTEX®1820FG should be stored in a dry atmosphere, on a paved, drained and unflooded area, at temperatures under 50°C and protected from UV radiation. Storage under inappropriate conditions could initiate degradation processes or undesired migration of additives included in its formulation which may have a negative influence on the processability and properties of the transformed product.
